Dear Andrew,

I am writing to share with you the evaluation reports of the College of Policing's Fast Track and Direct Entry schemes, which will be published shortly.

I note that last year you asked the Secretary of State for the Home Department what assessment had been made of the effectiveness of the Direct Entry Inspector Scheme for policing. The Government commissioned the College of Policing to implement a Direct Entry scheme in 2013 and as part of this, to produce an evaluation report. The final reports have been provided by the College of Policing and are attached to this letter. The reports consider the Fast Track and Direct Entry Inspector and Superintendent programmes. The College of Policing now intend to consult police forces and consider future proposals for the Fast Track and Direct Entry scheme.

A copy of this letter and the Fast Track and Direct Entry reports will be placed in the libraries of both Houses.
