This map gives a detailed picture of how lower-tier local authorities relate to travel to work areas in England. Colour-shaded areas with white boundaries and coloured labels represent local authorities. Black lines and black labels represent the borders of TTWAs.

Darker shading indicate built up areas (settlements). Grey lines indicate roads. Dotted white lines indicate railway lines and white dots indicate stations.