I live in Northern Ireland and am proud that we are known as a country that is against bringing in this Abortion Act. There seems to be no thought for the life that is terminated and I believe there are some countries where in the future there will be no Down Syndrome children or others with disabilities allowed to be born.

The thought of 9 million abortions having been carried out since 1967 is unbelievable. I have every sympathy with women who really have no choice but to have an abortion but it appears that most abortions are carried out for social reasons and some women having 2 or more. I can’t help thinking in the future there will be many women regretting what they have done resulting in mental health problems.

Why do so many people think we should fall in line with the rest of the world -: are there no other countries who don’t want the abortion act ?

It is beyond me that Parliament is discussing this when it was decided by a vote in the N.I. Assemblies on 11thFebruary 2016. This would seem to be undermining what we do in our Assemblies. What is the point of having an assembly when the Westminster Parliament is going to change what we have already voted on. Surely this is not democratic.

Why is it I only found out about this House of Commons committee from the Christian Institute and it hasn’t been widely published ?

I hope this letter is helpful to your committee. I am writing as a very worried mother, grandmother and Christian.
