Written submission from Norma Lockington (ANI0276)

I am a woman living in Northern Ireland and would like to keep the existing law on abortion in Northern Ireland, without any interference from the Westminster government. We are entitled to make our own laws through our locally elected representatives. So many lives of unborn children have been saved by our existing pro-life laws and I would like this to continue, as we are protecting the rights of our most vulnerable members of society. At a time of crisis pregnancy, women should be supported and cared for compassionately, as should their unborn child. I would plead with you not to change the existing law on abortion in Northern Ireland.
