I live in Northern Ireland and do not want our abortion law to be changed. In 2016 our elected Representatives clearly voted for our law not to be changed. Please don't go against the will of the people here, surely it would be undemocratic for Westminster to do so.

The most fundamental right of an unborn baby is the right to be born.

In Great Britain in 2016, 98% of abortions happened for social reasons. I am glad that I live in Northern Ireland where a baby’s life in the womb is valued and protected.
