1) DEVOLUTION
Abortion is a devolved issue in NI and it should remain so. This interference by British MP’s is unnecessary, un-democratic and unwelcome. Please let the people of NI decide our own laws on this complex issue. NI has been a beacon of human rights in this regard and we are happy with our current legislation as the recent ComRes poll outlined and as voted for by Stormont in 2016.

2) DISTINCTIVE LAW AND CULTURE
NI has a beautiful culture of protecting community, family and life. Following 30 years of bloody conflict, we do not want the violence of abortion afflicted on our women and unborn babies. We believe we can do better for our women in crisis by providing proper financial and emotional supports which enable women to make a positive rather than a negative ‘choice’. We also protect our most vulnerable babies who are diagnosed with disabilities and love and protect our Down syndrome community.

3) HUMAN RIGHTS & EQUALITY
In NI we believe that women do not need to terminate their children to achieve full equality. We believe it is cruel to pitch women against their unborn children and that abortion hurts and traumatises women, men and families.
