Written submission from Esther Bromley (ANI0617)

1) DEVOLUTION
Whether or not a woman in N Ireland is to be granted an abortion is something that should be decided by Northern Irish politicians, not Westminster as it is a devolved issue and pertains only to Northern Irish women/unborn children.

2) DISTINCTIVE LAW AND CULTURE
It is something to be proud of, that most children with in utero disabilities are allowed the chance to live in N. Ireland compared to the rest of the UK. Disability should not be a reason to allow an abortion.

3) HUMAN RIGHTS & EQUALITY
The value of the life of the child should be seen as equal to that of the life of the mother, not less so.

4) PERSONAL STORIES
