More women need to be in parliament as all policies and laws affect all women

They have a voice and views not just about ‘women’s issues’ but about society as a whole

It’s time for Parliament to reflect the make-up of the population it serves

September 2016