Introduction and background

1 Purpose of document

- 1.1 This framework document (the “framework document”) has been agreed between the Department for Culture, Media and Sport (“DCMS”) and the Museum of the Home in accordance with HM Treasury’s handbook Managing Public Money (“MPM”) (as updated from time to time) and has been approved by HM Treasury.
- 1.2 The framework document sets out the broad governance framework within which the Museum of the Home and the DCMS operate. It sets out the Museum of the Home’s core responsibilities, describes the governance and accountability framework that applies between the roles of the DCMS and the Museum of the Home, and sets out how the day-to-day relationship works in practice, including in relation to governance and financial matters.
- 1.3 The document does not convey any legal powers or responsibilities but both parties agree to operate within its terms. Nothing in this document shall prevent the Museum of the Home from carrying out its legal duties under its founding legislation or under any other legislation which impacts on its functions, activities or powers. The expectations set out here sit alongside the Museum of the Home’s statutory and charitable duties expected of staff and trustees. Any perceived conflicts should be brought to the attention of DCMS to discuss an appropriate way forward.
- 1.4 While commercial subsidiaries or trading arms may not be subject to the same requirements as the Museum of the Home itself, the Museum of the Home’s accounting officers should refer to Managing Public Money guidance which provides guidance on any delegations and oversight required for subsidiaries, if applicable. Prior to the next date for review and updating of this document, there shall be a document setting out the arrangements between the Museum of the Home and any subsidiaries.
- 1.5 Copies of the document and any subsequent amendments have been placed in the libraries of both Houses of Parliament and made available to members of the public on the Museum of the Home website: museumofthehome.org.uk
- 1.6 This framework document should be reviewed and updated at least every 3 years unless there are exceptional reasons that render this inappropriate that have been agreed with HM Treasury and the Principal Accounting Officer of the sponsor department. The latest date for review and updating of this document is 15 July 2028.

2 Objectives

- 2.1 DCMS and the Museum of the Home share the common objective of caring for and preserving museum collections; ensuring that they are exhibited to the public and made available for study and research; and promoting the public’s understanding and enjoyment of these collections. To achieve this the Museum of the Home and DCMS will work together in recognition of each other’s roles and areas of expertise, providing an effective environment for the Museum of the Home to achieve its charitable objectives through the promotion of partnership and trust and ensuring that the Museum of the Home also supports the strategic aims and objective of the department and wider government as a whole within its charitable purposes.

3 Classification

- 3.1 The Museum of the Home has been classified as a central government organisation by HM Treasury Classifications Team.

It has been administratively classified by the Cabinet Office as a non-departmental public body (NDPB).

The Museum of the Home (as The Geffrye Museum Trust Ltd) is a registered charity in England and Wales 803052

- 3.2 The Museum of the Home is a 'Freedoms Body'. This means that it operates under a set of exemptions from, or modifications to, a specific number of financial and operating requirements. These are detailed at Annex B: Cultural Freedoms Bodies' Freedoms Charter.

Purposes, aims and duties

4 Purposes

- 4.1 The Museum of the Home (The Geffrye Museum Trust Ltd) is a company limited by guarantee recognised as a charity and registered with the Charity Commission (Charity number 803052, company number 02476642). Its objects (charitable purposes) are laid out in its articles of association and are further laid out below.

5 Powers and duties

- 5.1 The Museum of the Home's powers are laid out in its articles of association.
- 5.2 The Museum of the Home's charitable purposes are:
- (i) the advancement of education for the public benefit by acquiring, housing and exhibiting and documenting, conserving, restoring and repairing objects and collections of an educational nature, particularly those relating to the study of the British domestic interior and its uses, and by promoting debate about the role and importance of the home in and for societies, and by establishing, acquiring, managing, and maintaining museums, galleries, libraries, and other suitable premises for use for such purposes
 - (ii) the acquisition, provision, establishment and management of public parks for the use and recreation of the public, the conservation and preservation of and the creation of public access to their natural features, and the encouragement and promotion of public knowledge and appreciation of the history of horticulture.

6 Aims

6.1 The Museum of the Home's strategic aims are to:

- Grow Audiences and Reach - Understand our audiences and better reflect the diversity of modern London. Build the local to power the global.
- Live Better Together - Content that's issues-focused, story-led, cross-platform, in partnership and reflects the diversity of modern London.
- Take Climate Action - Carbon neutral by 2040. Helping audiences make sustainable choices at home.
- Be Future Ready - Business planning and responding to the needs of our staff.

The Museum's manifesto asks 'what does home mean to you?;

1. Everyone has an idea of what home means to them

Home is universally relevant but deeply personal; our role is to engage people with the multiple meanings of home – past, present and future. We believe that our histories are critical to understanding how we live today and imagining the home of tomorrow.

2. Personal stories are our lifeblood

We want to know how people experience home. The best way to do this is to ask them: to document their choices, invite them to participate in the creation of our galleries and programmes, discover new stories in what they have left behind.

3. Our famous room-sets spark creativity

Our collections-filled spaces inspire everything from playful storytelling to radical re-imaginings of history. We are a hub where people creatively exploring the meaning of home can come together and be celebrated.

4. Everyone can learn something here

Learning is at the heart of our collections and programming. Whether you want to 'dip-in' or 'dive-in', we offer levels of connection and enable all our visitors and partners to engage. We specialise in issues-based schools programmes and are a leading academic centre for studies of home.

5. We are committed to climate justice

We understand the role of homes and home-life in both contributing to, and finding a solution to, the climate emergency. We believe that change can begin at home and we empower staff and visitors to make sustainable choices. As an organisation we commit to being carbon neutral by 2040.

6. We campaign for change

We want to leave the world a better place and positively impact the everyday experiences of our communities. We work in partnership with front-line services and social justice campaigners and use our platform confidently to inspire action on the most relevant and challenging issues of our time.

7. All are welcome in our urban gardens

We are proud of our diverse green spaces. They are a place for gathering and an oasis for all to enjoy.

In our gardens visitors can explore the seasons and discover the history and future of urban planting in a changing world.

8. We are local, national and international

We are a community-focused museum rooted in east London and acknowledge that many of the issues impacting our visitors are global.

We connect to people living and working nearby and - through research, partnerships and digital content - explore the meaning of home nationally and internationally.

9. Our visitors feel at home

We offer a warm welcome to both our physical and digital spaces. We create intergenerational experiences that are easy to navigate, and that enable our visitors to feel at ease, be themselves and take control.

10. Home is constantly evolving and so are we

We are not afraid to take risks to meet the changing needs of our visitors.

We keep up-to-date with issues affecting the ways we live and with progressive museum practice. Our own home – the almshouse buildings - enables us to confront the legacy of Robert Geffrye and the links between colonialism and home.

21 Procurement

21.1 As a Freedoms Body, the Museum of the Home has the flexibility to opt in and out of central procurement and is exempt from a number of other spend controls (see Annex B for details). Nonetheless, the following standards of good practice apply.

- 21.2 The Museum of the Home will ensure that its procurement policies are aligned with and comply with any relevant UK or other international procurement rules and in particular the current Public Procurement Regulations (For example, but not exclusive to, the Public Contracts Regulations 2015 and the Procurement Act 2023).
- 21.3 The Museum of the Home shall establish its procurement policies and document these in a Procurement Policy and Procedures Manual.

- 21.5 Goods, services, and works should be acquired by competition where necessary and appropriate. Proposals to let direct award or restricted contracts shall be limited and exceptional. The direct award financial Threshold value (where no competition has taken place to select a supplier) is set at £139,000 (ex VAT) for each contract or requirement. The Museum of the Home must comply with the direct award process as outlined at Annex C and as otherwise communicated to them by the department.
- 21.6 Where appropriate and proportionate, procurement by the Museum of the Home of works, equipment, goods, and services shall be based on a full option appraisal and value for money (VfM), i.e. the optimum combination and whole life costs and quality (fitness for purpose).
- 21.7 The Museum of the Home shall:
- engage with department and government wide procurement initiatives that seek to achieve VfM from collaborative projects
 - comply with relevant Procurement Policy Notes issued by Cabinet Office
 - co-operate with initiatives to improve the availability of procurement data to facilitate the achievement of VfM
- 21.8 The Museum of the Home shall comply with the relevant commercial and grants standards. These standards apply to the planning, delivery, and management of government commercial activity, including management of grants in all departments and ALBs, regardless of commercial approach used and form part of a suite of functional standards that set expectations for management within government.

22 Risk management

- 22.2 The Museum of the Home will allow for risk-based DCMS involvement in Audit and Risk Committee meetings.

23 Counter fraud and theft

- 23.1 The Museum of the Home should adopt and implement policies and practices to safeguard itself against fraud and theft.
- 23.2 The Museum of the Home should act in line with guidance as issued by the Counter Fraud Function and in compliance with the procedures and considerations as set in in MPM Annex 4.9 and the Counter Fraud Functional Standard. It should also take all reasonable steps to appraise the financial standing of any firm or other body with which it intends to enter a contract or to provide grant or grant-in-aid.
- 23.3 The Museum of the Home should keep records of and prepare and forward to the department an annual report on fraud and theft suffered by the Museum of the Home and notify the sponsor department of any unusual or major incidents as soon as possible. The Museum of the Home should also report detected loss from fraud, bribery, corruption and error, alongside associated recoveries and prevented losses, to the counter fraud centre of expertise in line with the agreed government definitions as set out in Counter Fraud Functional Standard.

24 Staff

24.1 Broad responsibilities for staff

Within the arrangements approved by the responsible Minister and the Treasury and subject to any relevant Freedom, the Museum of the Home will have responsibility for the recruitment, retention and motivation of its staff. The broad responsibilities toward its staff are to ensure that:

- the rules for recruitment and management of staff create an inclusive culture in which diversity is fully valued; appointment and advancement is based on merit; there is no discrimination against employees who share protected characteristics under the Equality Act 2010
- the level and structure of its staffing, including grading and staff numbers, are appropriate to its functions and the requirements of economy, efficiency and effectiveness
- the performance of its staff at all levels is satisfactorily appraised and the Museum of the Home performance measurement systems are reviewed from time to time

- adequate grievance and disciplinary procedures are in place

- whistle-blowing procedures consistent with the Public Interest Disclosure Act are in place
- Staff conduct will be in line with the Staff Handbook issued by the Museum of the Home from time to time.

24.2 Staff costs

Subject to its delegated authorities, the Museum of the Home shall ensure that the creation of any additional posts does not incur forward commitments that will exceed its ability to pay for them.

24.3 Pay and conditions of service

The Museum of the Home's staff are subject to appropriate levels of remuneration and terms and conditions of service (including pensions). As a Freedom Body, the Museum of the Home will not be subject to the Civil Service Pay Remit Guidance ("PRG") and will have the ability to offer average pay awards in excess of caps set out in this guidance.

The Museum of the Home shall continue to engage with their sponsor department during the process of making a pay remit application, particularly prior to completion. The Museum of the Home shall also continue to provide outturn data to HM Treasury and adhere to all other Civil Service Pay guidance issued by HM Treasury and the Cabinet Office.

- 24.4 If civil service terms and conditions of service apply to the rates of pay and non-pay allowances paid to the staff and to any other party entitled to payment in respect of travel expenses or other allowances, payment shall be made in accordance with the Civil Service Management Code and the annual Civil Service Pay Remit Guidance, except where prior approval has been given by the department to vary such rates.
- 24.5 Staff terms and conditions should be set out and available to both staff and DCMS if requested.
- 24.6 The Museum of the Home shall continue to adhere to all other Civil Service Pay guidance issued by HM Treasury and the Cabinet Office, including the Senior Pay Guidance¹.

- 24.10 The Museum of the Home staff shall normally be eligible for a pension provided by LPFA or Royal London. Staff may opt out of the occupational pension scheme provided by the Museum of the Home.

As a Freedom Body the Museum of the Home has the right to opt out of the Principal Civil Service Pension Scheme for new starters.

- 24.11 Any proposal by the Museum of the Home to pay any redundancy or compensation for loss of office, requires the prior approval of the department. Proposals on severance must comply with the rules in chapter 4 of MPM.

Business plans, financial reporting and management information

25 Corporate and business plans

- 25.1 The Museum of the Home shall share with the department its multi-year strategic plans in advance of publication, and provide annual progress updates. The plan shall reflect the Museum of the Home's statutory and/or other duties, its charitable purposes, and, within those duties, the priorities set from time to time by the responsible Minister (including decisions taken on policy and resources in the light of wider public expenditure decisions). The plan shall demonstrate how the Museum of the Home contributes to the achievement of the department's medium-term plan and priorities and aligned performance metrics and milestones in line with its charitable purposes.
- 25.2 The first year of the corporate plan, amplified as necessary, shall form the business plan. The business plan shall be updated to include key targets and milestones for the year immediately ahead and shall be linked to budgeting information so that resources allocated to achieve specific objectives can readily be identified by the department. Subject to any commercial considerations, a digest of the corporate and business plans should be published by the Museum of the Home on its website and separately be made available to staff.
- 25.3 The following key matters should, where necessary and relevant, be included in the plans:
- key objectives and associated key performance targets for the forward years, and the strategy for achieving those objectives
 - key non-financial performance targets
 - a review of performance in the preceding financial year, together with comparable outturns for the previous 2-5 years, and an estimate of performance in the current year

- alternative scenarios and an assessment of the risk factors that may significantly affect the execution of the plan but that cannot be accurately forecast
- other matters as agreed between the department and the Museum of the Home

26 Budgeting procedures

- 26.1 Each year, in the light of decisions by the department on its updated draft corporate plan, the department will send to the Museum of the Home within an agreed timetable:
- a formal statement of the annual budgetary provision allocated by the department in the light of competing priorities across the department and of any forecast income approved by the department
 - a statement of any planned change in policies affecting the Museum of the Home
- 26.3 The annual business plan will take account both of approved funding provision and any forecast receipts. It will include a budget of estimated payments and receipts together with a profile of expected expenditure and of draw-down of any departmental funding and/or other income over the year. These elements form part of the business plan for the year in question.

27 Grant-in-aid and any ring-fenced grants

- 27.1 Any grant-in-aid provided by the department for the year in question will be voted in the department's Supply Estimate and be subject to parliamentary control.
- 27.2 The grant-in-aid will normally be paid in monthly instalments on the basis of written applications showing evidence of need. The Museum of the Home will comply with the general principle, that there is no payment in advance of need. Cash balances accumulated during the course of the year from grant-in-aid or other Exchequer funds shall be kept to a minimum level consistent with the efficient operation of the Museum of the Home. Grant-in-aid not drawn down by the end of the financial year shall lapse.
- 27.3 In the event that the department provides the Museum of the Home separate grants for specific (ring-fenced) purposes, it would issue the grant as and when the Museum of the Home needed it on the basis of a written request. The Museum of the Home would provide evidence that the grant was used for the purposes authorised by the department. The Museum of the Home shall not have uncommitted grant funds in hand, nor carry grant funds over to another financial year.

28 Annual report and accounts

- 28.1 The Museum of the Home's Board must publish an annual report of its activities together with its audited accounts after the end of each financial year. The Museum of the Home shall provide the department its finalised (audited) accounts within an agreed timeframe each year in order for the accounts to be consolidated within DCMS. A draft of the report should be submitted to the department two weeks before the proposed publication date. The annual reports and accounts should be prepared following the direction given by the Sponsor department (or HM Treasury) in line with Government Resource and Accounts Act 2000 (or the entity's relevant legislation).

- 28.2 Information on performance against key financial targets is included within the annual report and subject to the auditor's consistency opinion. The report and accounts shall be laid in Parliament and made available on the Museum of the Home website, in accordance with the guidance in the Treasury's Financial Reporting Manual (FReM).

29 Reporting performance to the department

- 29.1 The Museum of the Home shall operate management, information and accounting systems that enable it to review in a timely and effective manner its financial and non-financial performance against the budgets and targets set out in the corporate and business plans.
- 29.2 The Museum of the Home shall inform the sponsor department of any changes that make achievement of objectives more or less difficult. It shall report financial and non-financial performance, including performance in helping to deliver Ministers' policies, and the achievement of key objectives regularly via quarterly Partnership Meetings with the department
- 29.3 The Museum of the Home's performance shall be formally reviewed by the department quarterly once a year. The Museum of the Home will share a summary of its financial and non-financial performance - including performance in helping to deliver ministers' policies, on key DCMS priorities and against KPIs - quarterly as part of engagement meetings. The format of this information pack will be agreed between the Museum of the Home and their Senior Sponsor in advance. Board papers will be shared on a case-by-case basis, as appropriate.
- 29.4 The responsible Minister will meet a senior representative of the Museum of the Home once a year.
- 29.5 The PAO will meet the Chair and/or Director at least once a year.

30 Information sharing

- 30.1 The department has the right of access to all the Museum of the Home records and personnel for any purpose including, for example, sponsorship audits and operational investigations. However, a Data Sharing Agreement/MoU will be required prior to the transfer of any personal data.
- 30.2 The Museum of the Home shall provide the sponsor department with such information about its operations, performance, individual projects or other expenditure as the sponsor department may reasonably require.
- 30.3 The department and HM Treasury may request the sharing of data held by the Museum of the Home in such a manner as set out in central guidance except where insofar as it is prohibited by law. This may include requiring the appointment of a senior official to be responsible for the data sharing relationship.
- 30.4 As a minimum, the Museum of the Home shall provide the department with information monthly that will enable the department satisfactorily to monitor:
- the Museum of the Home's cash management
 - its draw-down of grant-in-aid

- forecast outturn by resource headings
- other data required for the Online System for Central Accounting and Reporting (OSCAR)
- data as required in respect of its compliance with any applicable Cabinet Office Controls pipelines or required in order to meet any condition as set out in any settlement letter

Audit

31 Internal audit

31.1 The Museum of the Home shall:

- establish and maintain arrangements for internal audit
- ensure that any arrangements for internal audit are in accordance with the Public Sector Internal Audit Standards (PSIAS) as adopted by HM Treasury
- set up an audit committee of its board in accordance with the Code of Good Practice for Corporate Governance and the Audit and Risk Assurance Committee Handbook
- forward any audit plans including any internal audit opinion on risk management, control and governance as soon as possible to the sponsor department.
- keep records of and prepare and forward to the department an annual report on fraud and theft suffered by the Museum of the Home and notify the sponsor department of any unusual or major incidents as soon as possible
- share with the sponsor department information identified during the audit process and the Annual Audit Opinion Report (together with any other outputs) at the end of the audit, in particular on issues impacting on the department's responsibilities in relation to financial systems within the Museum of the Home.

32 External audit

32.1 The Comptroller & Auditor General (C&AG) audits the Museum of the Home's annual accounts and passes the audited accounts to the Responsible Minister who will lay the accounts together with the C&AG's report before parliament.

32.2 In the event that Museum of the Home has set up and controls subsidiary companies, the Museum of the Home will, in the light of the provisions in the Companies Act 2006, invite the National Audit Office to tender to act as auditor of those company subsidiaries that it controls and/or whose accounts are consolidated within its own accounts.

32.3 The C&AG:

- will consult the department and the Museum of the Home on whom – the NAO or a commercial auditor – shall undertake the audit(s) on his behalf, though the final decision rests with the C&AG
- has a statutory right of access to relevant documents, including by virtue of section 25(8) of the Government Resources and Accounts Act 2000, held by another party in receipt of payments or grants from the Museum of the Home
- will share with the sponsor department information identified during the audit process and the audit report (together with any other outputs) at the end of the audit, in particular on issues impacting on the Department's responsibilities in relation to financial systems within the Museum of the Home
- will consider requests from departments and other relevant bodies to provide regulatory compliance reports and other similar reports at the commencement of the audit. Consistent with the C&AG's independent status, the provision of such reports is entirely at the C&AG's discretion

32.4 The C&AG may carry out examinations into the economy, efficiency and effectiveness with which the Museum of the Home has used its resources in discharging its functions. For the purpose of these examinations the C&AG has statutory access to documents as provided for under section 8 of the National Audit Act 1983. In addition, the Museum of the Home shall provide, in conditions to grants and contracts, for the C&AG to exercise such access to documents held by grant recipients and contractors and sub-contractors as may be required for these examinations; and shall use its best endeavours to secure access for the C&AG to any other documents required by the C&AG which are held by other bodies.
